MAGI Membership Passes 900

MAGI now has members from over 900 sites, sponsors and CROs, including most of the major players.

September Meeting in San Francisco

The Negotiating Clinical Trial Agreements & Budgets conference in Boston last month was the first for which a majority of attendees rating the meeting "Excellent." Almost all of the rest rated the meeting "Very Good." The next meeting is in San Francisco on September 24-27. Boston attendees welcomed the addition of a second track; more, longer sessions for our diverse audience; and more workshops and networking events. The agenda for the conference is at <http://www.srinstitute.com/cs378>. We expect over 200 attendees in San Francisco. An increasing number of attendees are "repeat customers."

MAGI Model CTA

The MAGI Model CTA is more than a multiple-choice text. The accompanying commentary also answers common – and subtle questions about clinical trial agreements. If you aren't a CTA expert, you can still ask questions that help us create the commentary.

Regional Laws, Regulations & Customs

Our database of state and international CTA requirements is growing. Please contribute! The database is at <http://www.firstclinical.com/magi/documents>.
